

- Representation - MCCCII works as a voice for the private sector
- Referral - MCCCII receives requests for goods and services that are referred to the members
- Information - MCCCII provides information on trade to its members through publications, business meetings, corporate visits and events
- Documentation Centre - MCCCII is an important source of business intelligence. It renders assistance to members that require information through its Documentation Centre
- Involvement - MCCCII Members work together to improve quality of businesses and the business environment.
- New business prospects – MCCCII members make new connections, gain new business prospects, new markets, new products and services through MCCCII.
- Share knowledge and expertise – MCCCII members share knowledge and expertise of various fields of their businesses.